

A remittance service provider is an individual, business or organisation that accepts instructions from customers to transfer money or property to a recipient. Remittance service providers are also known as “money transfer businesses”™. Video: Guidance for remittance service providers