A remittance service provider is an individual, business or organisation that accepts instructions from customers to transfer money or property to a recipient. Remittance service providers are also known as †money transfer businesses'. Video: Guidance for remittance service providers